WAITING IT OUT: Banyana veteran defender Bambanani Mbane ischallenged by Giancinti Valentina of Italy during their 2023 FifaWomen's World Cup match. Mbane is still on the injured list.

Ellis faces selection headache as Banyana gear for Olympics qualifier

SHILE NDEBELE

Banyana Banyana soccer coach Desiree Ellis has admitted she's faced with a difficult task to select her final squad to play Tanzania in the third round of the Olympics qualifiers.

Ellis has also implied she would select the players on merit, basing it on what they've shown her during the ongoing training camp, made up of only local-based players.

The first leg against Tanzania is on February 23 away and the return leg is at Mbombela Stadium four days later. The winners of this tie will advance to the last round.

Fifa awarded the African federation (Caf) only two spots for this year's Games, to be hosted by France in Paris from July 26 to August 11.

"Training so far has gone really well," Ellis said. "Players have put in a lot of effort and that makes my job much more difficult to select the final 23.

"It is becoming more and more difficult to select players; it is becoming more and more difficult to tell someone that they've not made it.

"We have some players who are still out injured and not available but that doesn't make it [selecting the final squad] any easier. It's still difficult.

"Obviously some players have raised their hands more than others. I have always said that it is up to the players to be selected."

Ellis is expected to announce her final 23-member team on Monday.

One of the players who is still out injured is veteran defender Bambanani Mbane.

The 33-year-old Mamelodi Sundowns star is still recovering from a severe ankle injury she picked up in the World Cup round of 16 tie against the Netherlands in Sydney, Australia, in August.

Banyana may have last played early in December, when they beat DR Congo 2-0 in the second leg of the same Olympic qualifiers second round, but Ellis is convinced the team haven't really lost their connection.

"We are just trying to find that energy. The connection is always there because it is a group of players who have been together for a while."
